Gone to His Reward.

Mr. J. W. Hurt Crosses the Dark Valley After A Long Illness.

Funeral Services at Methodist Church.

After an illness of nearly two years, Mr. J. W. Hurt, who was one of the best known men in Adair county, peacefully passed through the veil last Thursday afternoon at 6:00 o'clock, his wife, all his children, sisters and brothers being at his bedside.

This death was not unexpected, as the deceased was a victim of stomach trouble and had been on the decline for about two years. For several weeks before the end came his condition was critical, the family and friends knowing that it was only a short time until the final earthly separation would take place, each member being nerved to meet the result, the physicians having administered every known remedy.

The deceased was a son of Y. E. Hurt, who in his life time was prominent throughout this county, and was born and reared a few miles from Columbia, but for several years he and his family have resided in this place. He was 64 years old the 6th of last January.

When quite a young man Mr. Hurt was deputy Sheriff under his father, and later he was twice elected and served two terms as Sheriff of Adair county.

Soon after he reached his majority he was married to Miss Margaret Pyle, and to this union six children were born, five of whom are living; one died in infancy.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Church, having connected himself with that organization when quite a young man.

Besides his wife he leaves four sons, one daughter, a number of brothers and sisters.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist Church, this city, Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Chandler, a large circle of relatives and friends being present. After the services the remains were conveyed to the city cemetery, there to await the resurrection morn.

The News extends its sympathy to the family and all other relatives.

Mr. L. B. Hurt has exhibited at this office a curiosity in the way of eggs. They are two in number and are a dark brown. They were laid by a common black hen, without a record, at the home of Mrs. Geo. J. Hurt.

Almost in the Swim.

The following information was written by Mrs. Allen Pile, Paducah, Ky., to a relative in Columbia. It was dated April 8.

I thought perhaps you'd be interested in knowing we are almost "in the swim." We are nearly two miles from the river, but the water is from 4 inches to 18 or more in our yard and lot. It would come over Allen's boot tops yesterday, any where in the back yard, but has fallen a little bit to-day. It lacked 26 inches of getting to our floors. We haven't received mail, or had any lights or gas for several days. Since Saturday, boats and skiffs by the dozens have been going by our house in all directions, and water is to the top of high boots in front of our gate. Several times a boat has come in our yard, to our steps. We couldn't get out any other way, as it was over our boot tops at the gate. The children are never so happy as when we lend them our boots and let them wade, or somebody takes them a boat ride. They haven't had a real ducking yet. We can go all the way from here to town in a boat. A very few streets are out of water. We are farther out than the Judge Park place. Water hasn't been as high here since 1884.

Arm Broken

Early this morning (Tuesday) Mrs. Bettie Page, wife of Dr. J. N. Page, met with a very serious accident. She was in her back yard and slipped and fell, striking her arm against a post, breaking it between the elbow and shoulder. Surgeons were immediately called and the fracture reduced. Her many friends hope for an early recovery, though Mrs. Page is a great sufferer at this writing.

Prof. M. O. Winfrey, a native of Adair county, who has been Superintendent of the public schools, Middlesboro, Bell county, for eleven years, has just been re-elected for a term of two years. His salary was increased from $1,800 per year to $2,000. Prof. Winfrey is a great favorite with the patrons and is very much loved by the pupils.

Commencing next week, the Parlor Circle will entertain on Tuesday and Saturday evenings each week.

Farmers Bank, Casey Creek, this county, publishes a very creditable statement in this issue of the News, showing that it is in good hands.

Change in Management.

Prof. P. D. Neilson Resigns as Co-Principal of the Lindsey-Wilson Training School.

REV. J. S. CHANDLER SUCCEEDS HIM.

For more than two weeks it has been known to a number of Columbians that Prof. P. D. Neilson had tendered his resignation as Co-Principal of the Lindsey-Wilson Training School, and had accepted a position as principal of a Boy's School Springfield, Tenn.

Last week the Board of Managers of the institution was here, looking after the interest of the school for the coming year, and who would succeed Prof. Neilson in the minds of the people, but it was not known until Wednesday night who the mantle would fall upon. It is our understanding that there were six applicants for the position, but it seems from the action of the board that it had but one man in view—Rev. J. S. Chandler, pastor of the Methodist Church this place—who was not an applicant, and who was greatly surprised when the position was tendered him. He was one of the Committee who came to Columbia and selected the site for the planting of the school buildings, and he has been greatly interested in the institution from that date.

In the school room he is not a tyro having served sixteen years as a teacher. After due consideration he accepted the offer and will enter heartily into the work for the continued success of this well known and popular school. Rev. Chandler is a man of great force, and evidently possesses an abundance of governing power, well educated—a popular gentleman. We predict that he will fill the place with credit to himself and to the perfect satisfaction of patrons and pupils.

Prof. R. R. Moss, who has been with the school from the beginning, 11 years, will continue as Co-Principal. He needs no commendation from The News, as he is known throughout this section of the State as a high gentleman, full of energy and a most excellent instructor, a teacher very much loved by his pupils.

Prof. Neilson will remain with the school until the close of the present term, at which time he will leave for his new field. The departure of himself, his most excellent companion and little daughter, will be generally regretted, as they have resided in Columbia long enough to become endeared to the people, hence they will be greatly missed. Prof. Neilson is a thorough teacher, very much in love with the work, a gentleman of strong character, a valuable acquisition to any school, and the institution to which he goes should feel honored in securing his services.

Before the opening of the September term valuable improvements will be made "on the hill." The Girls dormitory will be given a thorough overhauling, all the rooms to be repapered and other necessary changes will be made. The Boys dormitory will also be given attention, and when the fall term opens every thing on the hill will be as bright as a new pin.

The money to make these necessary improvements was raised last Wednesday night by voluntary subscriptions.

The business men of Cumberland county should read the statement of the Bank of Cumberland, Burkesville. The figures show that it is a paying institution, due largely to the management, as it is controlled by safe, business men. Mr. C. W. Alexander, one of the most prominent men of Cumberland county, is its Pres. Our many readers in Cumberland county are asked to read carefully the most satisfactory statement.

Mr. R. F. Paull sold two 5 months old Poland China gilts, last week, one to A. D. Patteson and the other to C. S. Harris. The crump eared Poland China is as fine as "split silk" and Mr. Paull has as good ones as can be found anywhere. His herd of Abberdeen cattle will tickle the fancy of any one

A very encouraging statement of the First National Bank is published to-day. Look it over and you will be convinced that it is a live institution. The management is known to every body in the county.

The prospect for a good wheat crop is as good as ever seen in this section so early in the spring.

Resolutions of Respect.

We, the members of the Board of Managers of the Lindsey-Wilson Training School of the Louisville Conference of the M. E. Church, South, in our annual meeting, miss the presence and wise counsel of our honored and beloved brother, Gov. James R. Hindman, who was a very useful and efficient member of this Board, therefore be it Resolved 1st.—That Gov. Hindman was a devoted friend to education, and that the success of the Lindsey-Wilson Training School is largely due to his liberality and the constant attention he gave the school.

Resolved 2nd.—That we recognize his knowledge of matters and wisdom in dealing with complex questions arising in the management of the affairs of the school.

Resolved 3rd.—That we miss his good fellowship, his presence, his wit and humor always enlivened our meetings.

Resolved 4th.—That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, and a copy given to the Adair County News for publication.

A Splendid Lecture.

Dr. Gross Alexander, perhaps the most scholarly minister of the Louisville Conference, delivered an exceedingly interesting lecture at the Methodist church Tuesday night of last week. It sparkled with humor and was full of sound advice to young and young women, and those who failed to hear it, missed a rare treat. He held the large audience, all Wilson's First Message to Congress.

Washington, April 8.—President Wilson began his message as follows:

"I am very glad indeed to have this opportunity to address the two houses directly and to verify for myself the impression that the President of the United States is a person, not a mere department of the Government hailing Congress from some isolated island of jealous power, sending messages, not speaking naturally and with his own voice; that he is a human being trying to co-operate with other human beings in a common service. After this pleasant experience I shall feel quite normal in all our dealings with one another."

Washington, April 8.—President Woodrow Wilson to-day communicated his first message to the Sixty-third Congress, convened in extraordinary session. It was an unusually brief document, dealing exclusively with the need for a thorough, moderate and well considered revision of the tariff.

The President drew attention to the necessity for an early reform in the banking and currency laws, but refrained, he said, from urging, for the present, any other legislation that might divert the energies of Congress "from its clearly defined duty" toward the tariff question.

The message referred to no particular schedule, mentioned no rates, and included no statistics. It was an enunciation of the President's principles to tariff revision. His specific views and ideas as to rates and duties, it has been generally accepted, will be contained in the tariff bill itself, which he is now considering in detail.

The President's decision to put the weight of the Administration's influence behind the bill with its various schedules as drawn by the House Ways and Means Committee, caused him to omit specific reference to tariff rates until the measure was finally agreed upon in the opening days of the present session.

The message urged that special privilege and exemptions from competition be cut out of the nation's tariff system and that the revision be made "to square with the facts as they are." At the outset, the President called attention to the party's pledge for tariff reduction. The message follows:

TEXT OF MESSAGE.

To the Senate and House of Representatives: I have called the Congress together in extraordinary session because a duty was laid upon the party now in power at the recent elections which it ought to perform promptly, in order that the burden carried by the people under existing law may be lightened as soon as possible and in order, also, that the business interests of the country may not be kept too long in suspense as to what the fiscal changes are to be to which they will be required to adjust themselves.

It is clear to the whole country that the tariff duties must be altered. They must be changed to meet the radical alteration in the conditions of our economic life which the country has witnessed within the last generation. While the whole face and method of our industrial and commercial life were being changed beyond recognition, the tariff schedules have remained what they were before the change began, or have moved in the direction they were given when no large circumstance of our industrial development was what it is to day.

Our task is to square them with the actual facts. The sooner that is done the sooner we shall escape from suffering from the facts and the sooner our men of business will be free to thrive by the law of nature (the nature of free business), instead of by the law of legislation and artificial arrangement.

WANDERED FAR AFIELD.

We have seen tariff legislation wander very far afield in our day—very far, indeed, from the field in which our prosperity might have had a normal growth and stimulation. No one who looks the facts squarely in the face or knows anything that lies beneath the surface of action can fail to perceive the principles upon which recent tariff legislation has been based.

We long ago passed beyond the modest notion of "protecting" the industries of the country and moved boldly forward to the idea that they were entitled to the direct patronage of the Government. For a long time—a time so long that the men now active in public policy hardly remember the conditions that preceded it—we have sought in our tariff schedules to give each group of manufacturers or producers what they themselves thought that they needed in order to maintain a practically exclusive market as against the rest of the world.

Consciously or unconsciously, we have built up a set of privileges and exemptions from competitions behind which it was easy by any, even the crudest, forms of combination to organize monopoly; until at last nothing is normal, nothing is obliged to stand the tests of efficiency and economy, in our world of big business, but everything thrives by concerted arrangement. Only new principles of action will save us from a final hard crystallization of monopoly and a complete loss of the influences that quicken enterprise and keep independent energy alive.

MUST ABOLISH PRIVILEGES. It is plain what those principles must be. We must abolish everything that bears even the semblance of privilege or of any kind of artificial advantage, and put our business men and producers under the stimulation of a constant necessity to be efficient, economical, and enterprising, masters of competitive supremacy, better workers and merchants than any in the world.

Aside from the duties laid upon articles which we do not, and probably cannot, produce, therefore, and the duties laid upon luxuries and merely for the sake of the revenues they yield, the object of the tariff duties henceforth laid must be effective competition, the whetting of American wits by contest with the wits of the rest of the world.

It would be unwise to move toward this end headlong, with reckless haste, or with strokes that cut at the very roots of what has grown up amongst us by long process and at our own invitation. It does not alter a thing to upset it and break it and deprive it of a chance to change. It destroys it. We must make changes in our fiscal laws, in our fiscal system, whose object is development, a more free and wholesome development, not revolution or upset or confusion.

We must build up trade, especially foreign trade. We need the outlet and the enlarged field of energy more than we ever did before. We must build up industry as well, and must adopt freedom in the place of artificial stimulation only so far as it will build, not pull down. In dealing with the tariff the method by which this may be done will be a matter of judgment, exercised item by item.

HEROIC REMEDIES NECESSARY.

To some not accustomed to the excitements and responsibilities of greater freedom our methods may in some respects and at some points seem heroic, but remedies may be heroic and yet be remedies. It is our business to make sure that they are genuine remedies. Our object is clear. If our motive is above just challenge and only an occasional error of judgment is chargeable against us, we shall be fortunate.

We are called upon to render the country a great service in more matters than one. Our responsibility should be met and our methods should be thorough, as thorough as moderate and well considered, based upon the facts as they are, and not worked out as if we were beginners. We are to deal with the facts of our own day, with the facts of no other, and to make laws which square with those facts. It is best, indeed it is necessary, to begin with the tariff.

I will urge nothing upon you now at the opening of your session which can obscure that first object or divert our energies from that clearly defined duty. At a later time I may take the liberty of calling your attention to reforms which should press close upon the heels of the tariff changes, if not accompany them, of which the chief is the reform of our banking and currency laws; but just now I refrain.

For the present, I put these matters on one side and think only of this one thing—of the changes in our fiscal system which may best serve to open once more the free channels of prosperity, to a great people whom we would serve to the utmost and throughout both rank and file.

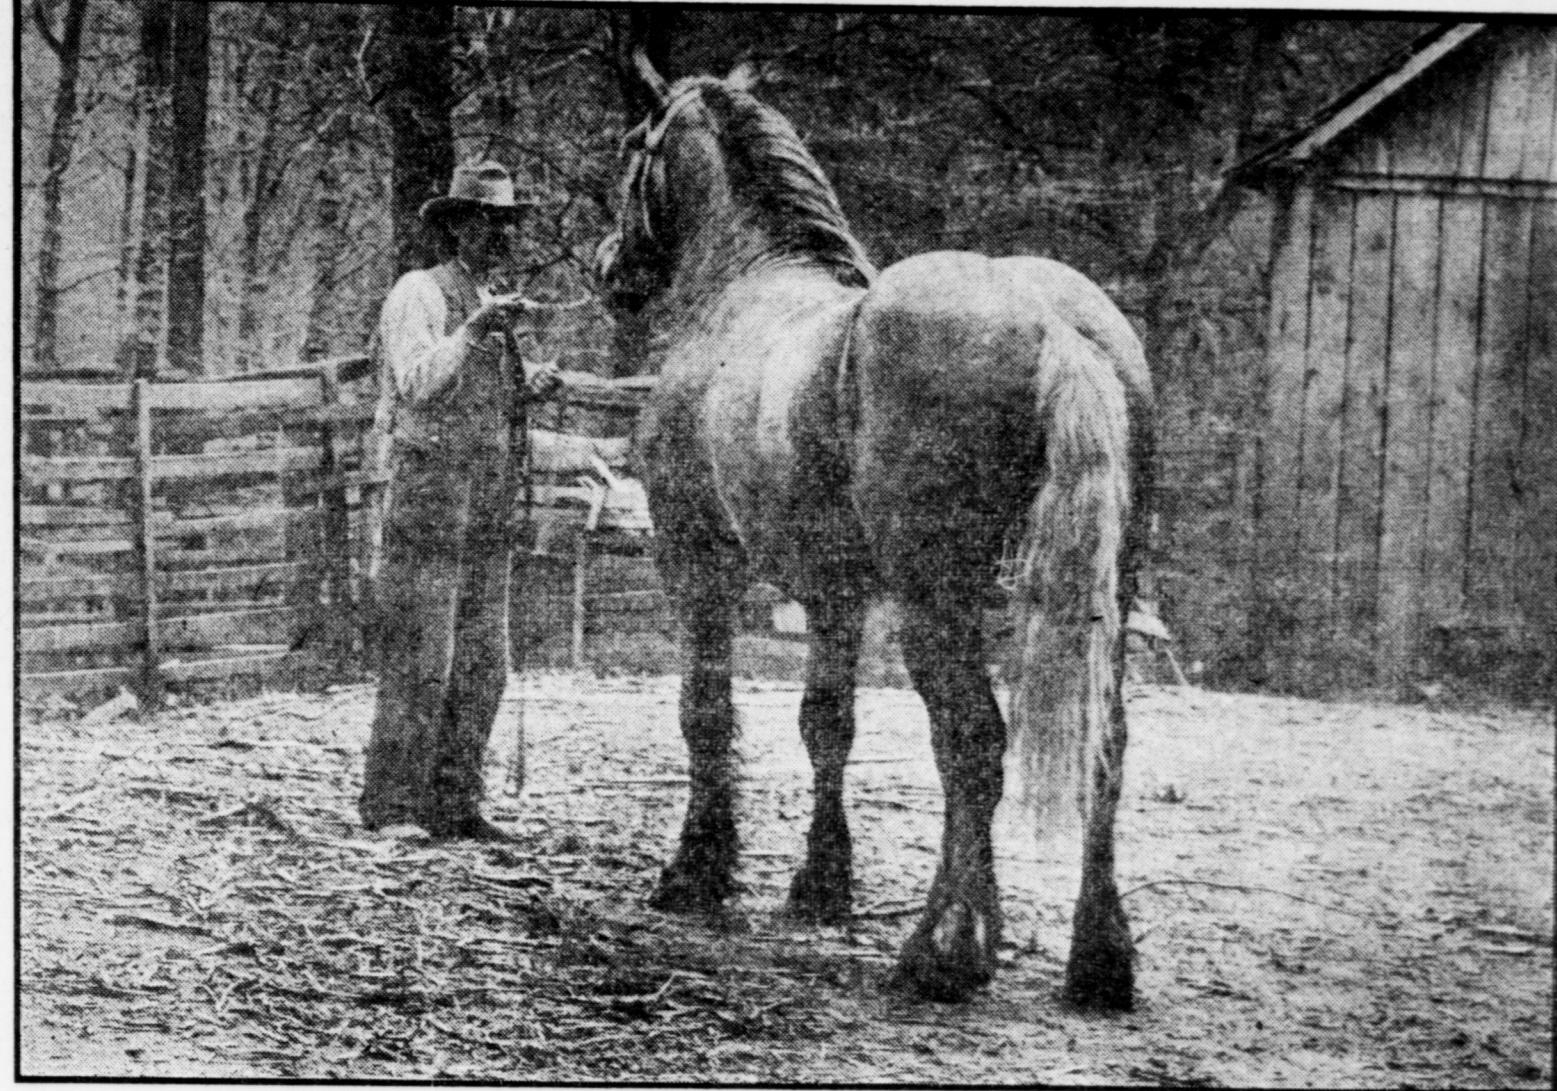

WOODROW WILSON.
The White House, April 8, 1913.

McGaha.

A large crowd gathered at the old log church at the mouth of Butler Fork last Sunday to see Mr. M. Powell and Miss Banne Wilson united in matrimony. The intended bride and groom came. With anxiety they waited for Rev. I. M. Grimsley to arrive and perform the ceremony. But alas he was at Sparksville teaching a singing school. He engaged a horse to ride—so he started, but when he came to the forks of the road the horse wanted to go one road and the rider the other. After worrying some time, and gaining no ground, he sent the horse back and took it a foot to Mr. D. M. Moore's where he procured a horse to ride.

He arrived just as the people announced that they would meet again at night and get the services of another minister, but the arrival of I. M. Grimsley saved them of the trouble.

Facts for Candidates.

Candidates before the August primary have begun to deluge the Attorney General's department with inquiries about the primary law, says a Frankfort dispatch to the daily press. The two questions that confuse them most are with regard to the signatures to their petitions and the method of voting. Many of them are in doubt whether they must have the signatures of a certain per cent. of the voters in every precinct in the county. They have been informed that where the law says a certain per cent. of the voters in a county, they need pay no attention to precinct lines and may get their signatures from any part of the county. These signatures must be secured not more than 90 or less than 30 days before the primary. Others wish to know if a party may by writing on their ballots vote for a candidate of another party, to which the answer is no. The same answer is given to those who ask whether they write on the ballot the name of a person other than a candidate nominated by petition.

Whereas, the supreme ruler of the Universe has seen fit in His Infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our beloved Friend and Brother, J. R. Rice, on the 3rd day of April, 1913, after a brief illness.

Therefore, be it resolved: That in the death of Sir Knight Rice our tent has lost a true member, one of unestimable value, the community a good citizen and neighbor, his family a loving husband and faithful father.

Resolved: That this tent extend its heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing ones in this, their hours of trial, exhorting them to look to the one who doeth all things well and one who has promised to be a father to the widow and orphans.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our tent, of which Sir Knight Rice was a member, a copy be sent to the Adair County News for publication, and a copy of same delivered to the bereaved family.

RAVEN BIRD.

This fine Stallion will make the season of 1913 at my barn 2 miles from Jamestown and will be permitted to serve mares for $8.00 to insure a living colt. Money due when colt is foaled or mare traded or removed from neighborhood or bred to other stock. All care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

RAVEN BIRD sired by Red Bird 1956, he by Cabell's Joe Brown 1955, by Cabell's Lexington 3234, by Gist's Black Hawk. 1st dam Authia Thompson, by Thompson's Lexington, he by Cabell's Lexington 3234, by Gist's Black Hawk. 2nd dam by Caldwell's Denmark, he by King Denmark. 3rd dam Bonie, by old Nat Brown 81.

RAVEN BIRD is a beautiful mahogany bay, full 16 hands high, 6 years old, has the best of eyes, feet and legs, a beautiful head and neck, a very heavy well set tail which he at all times carries to perfection. He possesses extreme speed, style and action, and the most perfect disposition of any stallion I have ever seen or handled. He has fine distinct gaits, and goes them all in a most attractive manner. He is one of Red Bird's greatest sons, and has proven himself an excellent breeder.

BILL McFARLAND.

This Jack is the John Mcfarland Jack, 15 hands 3 inches high, and will stand at same place at $8.00 to insure a living colt. Same terms as applied to horse.

For the Man of Forty.

"Darnation, I'm forty today," he groaned. "Look at my wrinkles. Look at my bald spot. Look at the gray hair above my ears. Youth is gone—the grave approaches—and I'm so wretched that I think I'll go out and drink fifty beers."

But his good wife responded: "Cheer up. Intelligent men, thinkers and brainworkers like yourself have always been distinguished for a Hale and happy longevity. Solon, Sophocles, Pinder and Anacreon were octogenarians. Goethe, over eighty, did some of his best work. So did Kant, Buffon, Newton, Fontenelle and Harvey, the discoverer of the circulation of the blood.

"Landor wrote the most beautiful Imaginary Conversations at eighty-five. Isaac Walton at ninety had a fluent, forceful pen. Hahnemann at eighty married and at ninety-one made some of his most fruitful discoveries. Michael Angelo's canvases when he was eighty-nine were as vigorous as they had been sixty years before. Titian was doing good work at ninety. Newton at eighty-three—"

But here the man, wonderfully perked up, interrupted her.

"I guess I won't get drunk after all," he said. "Get your hat, my dear, and we'll go to the 'movies' and wind up with an oyster supper."

CHAS. S. HARRIS EDITOR.

Democratic newspaper devoted to the interest of the City of Columbia and the people Adair and adjacent counties.

Entered at the Columbia Post-office as second class mail matter.

WED. APRIL 16, 1913.

It is not our purpose to impose on the readers of The News by our insistence for better public conditions, for the building of good roads and the many other movements that tend to advance in this part of the country. Whether our proposition is right or wrong, good or bad, progressive or destructive as to the building of roads and paying for same by borrowing the money on reasonable time, is left to the judgment of those who are willing to investigate. In giving our views on the bond issue proposition they have been given in an open, honest manner while those who opposed have been published as received at this office, and now we withdraw the invitation for further discussion. It was our purpose and desire to bring about due consideration of the most important public necessity that affects the well-being of this section, and in so doing develop a system of building substantial roads, but the mark has been missed, passion ruled and the object lost. The would-be saviors of our country rushed to the front, and instead of presenting arguments, in discussing a vital proposition, appealed to passion and prejudice. As stated in the beginning, no one man can change conditions in this county, and failing to receive support in our position no further pursuit is advisable. In bidding adieu to the proposition to build good roads, we desire to say that this county can not prosper under present conditions. Business expansion will not come, neither will values increase. If such conditions suit the people it is useless to insist for a change. Those who want better roads, who like activity and growth can receive, the same by going elsewhere.

By reference to our announcement column it will be seen that Mr. JOHN M. WOLFORD, the present Assessor of Adair county, is a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the action of the Progressive Republican party, expressed at the August primary. His present office has been a vehicle, so to speak, of introductory, and to-day he is one of the best known men in Adair county, one who has many friends, not only in the the Casey Creek precinct where he resides, but throughout the county. Mr. Wolford expects to make a thorough canvass before the primary, conducting his race upon high principles. There is no doubt but his party has perfect confidence in his ability to conduct the affairs of the office of sheriff, and being popular, they will take pleasure in giving him its support. If he should be nominated and elected, he will be under lasting obligations to the Progressive Republicans of Adair county, promising them that he will be faithful to every trust.

In to-day's News Mr. J. Z. PICKETT is announced as a candidate for Jailer of Adair county, subject to the action of the Progressive Republican party expressed at the August primary. Mr. Pickett was born and reared in Adair county, and the greater portion of his life was spent in the Gradyville and Milltown precincts, Milltown from the time he became a voter until he removed to Columbia. He was reared a Republican, and was a staunch supporter of the old party until the organization of the Progressive party, last year. He was active, and supported the nominees at every election. He is a sober, industrious Christian gentleman, and promises his party that if they will give him the nomination and should he be elected, that nothing will call him from his duty, and that he will be under lasting obligations to his supporters. He hopes to not only see all his friends before the primary, but he will endeavor to make many new ones. He asks a favorable consideration of his candidacy.

Mr. Lilburn Phelps, of Russell county, a well-known lawyer and a very high gentleman, is a candidate to represent Russell and Casey in the next Legislature. His party could not make a better selection and if he goes to Frankfort he will know what to do when he gets there, as he is a gentleman of ability, a learned lawyer. He is popular in the two counties and will have no opposition from his party, as we understand.

Ed Hancock bought a pair of Iron gray mules from John Read last week for $400.

Mrs. Nancy Rice, who has been real sick for the past two weeks, is improving slowly.

T. I. Smith has been in Columbia for the past month buying poultry.

Mr. John J. Banks lost a very fine cow last Friday.

R. T. Dudgeon was in Louisville on business last week.

Mrs. Robt. Hindman, of Columbia, was visiting her mother, Mrs. Geo. T. Herriford, last Friday.

The nice weather has put the pike in good shape, and the Automobile brings the mail in on good time. The Myers men and their employees are all nice men. Fred Myers is the nicest man I ever saw in public business. I see him often pick up an old, ragged man and help him on his journey. Every thing with him is pleasant.

Chance for Boys and Girls.

The office of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. sends the following:

A gold medal to the school boy or girl between the ages of 10 to 15 who writes the best composition, not exceed 800 words, on the repair and maintenance of earth roads, is to be awarded by Logan Waller Page, Director, Office of Public Roads. All compositions must be submitted to Mr. Page before May 15, 1913, and the medal will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions can be graded. The composition may be based on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be made.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Page's belief that ignorance on the subject of repair and maintenance of roads is as much the cause of their bad condition as any other one factor. It is expected that the competition will bring about a better understanding of the subject of repair and maintenance in the rural districts.

Many children living in the rural districts have experienced the disadvantages of roads made impassable through a lack of proper maintenance and it is expected that their interest in the competition will stimulate greater interest among the parents. Bad roads have prevented many children from obtaining a proper education and have even prevented doctors from reaching the side of rural patients in time to save their lives.

Any child between the ages mentioned, attending a country school, may compete. Only one side of the paper must be written on; each page should be numbered; the name, age and address of the writer, and the name and location of the school which he or she is attending must be plainly written at the top of the first page. The announcement of the competition has been sent to the superintendents of schools in the rural districts. No further information can be obtained from the Office of Public Roads. This announcement should be plain to everyone, and all children will thus start on a basis of equality.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why we are Advertising It

We are giving "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence as wide publicity through newspapers and farm journals, as is given most news items of national importance.

This advertising, of course, costs us a great deal of money. Why are we spending it?

Simply because we thoroughly and honestly believe "Pittsburgh Perfect",

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN,

CHICKEN, POULTRY and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

Ask your dealer for "Pittsburgh Perfect" and insist on his furnishing it. Do not allow him to persuade you that some other fence is just as good. If he doesn't sell it, write us direct.

AS MADE TODAY, is a fence unequalled by any other on the market.

We know exactly what's in it, for we make it entirely in our own furnaces and mills.

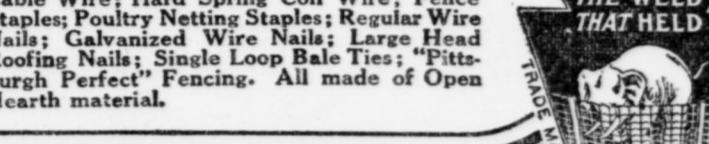

Doesn't our faith in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence make it worthy your full investigation?

NOTICE

JOE

This celebrated stallion will make the season of 1913 at Will Johnson's barn, 4½ miles south of Columbia and 1½ miles west of Gadberry on Pettit's Fork creek, and will serve mares at $6.00 to insure a living colt. He has proven to be a good breeder.

JOE is a dark bay, 16 hands high, heavy built, good style, has the best of eyes, feet and legs, and in fact a perfect model in every respect. He is a Cleveland Bay and the best work horse I ever seen, and quiet and easy handled for women to drive, so he needs no further introduction.

Money due when colt is foaled. All care taken to prevent accidents but not responsible should any occur.

We will also stand a good 6 year old Jack at the same place on same condition as horse at the low fee of $5.00. This Jack is 14 hands high and has proven himself a good breeder.

Call and see our stock if interested.

Attention.

Columbia, Ky., April 14th, 1913.

I hate to have to call the attention of the citizens of our town to the unlawful habit that some of our people have of throwing their dead fowls on to their neighbors lots. There are but two lawful ways of disposing of dead chickens, one is to bury, the other to burn them. One woman who complained to me of her neighbor throwing dead chickens on her lot said that she would willingly give them the ground to bury their dead chickens in but she did not want them out on her lots to putrid and make maggots for her chickens to eat, and thereby become diseased. Maggots in dead fowls eaten by chickens give them what is called "limber neck," a disease nearly always fatal. Throwing dead chickens out on the commons is an indictable offense, and anyone guilty of it should take warning.

By order of the Board of Health, U. L. Taylor, Health Officer.

Attention is called to the statement of the Bank of Columbia, published on our first page. It shows a considerable increase over the last report. The officers would be glad if you would read it carefully.

Take Notice.

My books are in the hands of Mr. Bruce Montgomery, at the First National Bank. I am anxious to get my last years business settled, and I would consider it a favor if those

Bowels are Basis of Child Health

The careful mother, who watches closely the physical peculiarities of her children, will soon discover that the most important thing in connection with a child's constant good health is to keep the bowels regularly open. Sluggish bowels will be followed by loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder.

At the first sign of such disorder give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring and repeat the dose the following night if necessary—more than that will scarcely be needed. You will then see that he will recover his accustomed good spirits at once and will eat and sleep normally. This remedy is a vast improvement over salts, cathartics, laxative waters and similar things, which are altogether too powerful for a child. The homes of Mrs. Carrie McDonald, 1036 Trigg Ave., Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Sallie E. Griffith, Veedah, Ky., are always supplied with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and with them, as with thousands of others, there is no substitute for this grand laxative. It is really more than a laxative, for it contains superior tonic properties which help to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels so that after a brief use of it all laxatives can be dispensed with and nature will do its own work.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, can get $1.00 a dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Straight at It.

There is no use of our "beating around the bush." We might as well put it first as last. We want you to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the next time you have a cough.

A little piece of twine, which dropped into the steering gear of the liner Lustania, caused $1,000,000 damage. It sounds "fishy," but the Cunard company says it is a fact.

He Lived Too Long.

Pittsfield, in the Berkshire hills, had in the old days, like many another New England town, a number of men and women who were called "characters." One of these was "Bill" Brown, a man unfortunately addicted to drink, and frequently intoxicated for days at a time.

On one occasion he went into the shop of the local hatter, Mr. Smith, and asked for the best beaver he had. Mr. Smith produced the desired article, saying, as he took the money:

"That beaver will last a man a lifetime."

Bill went proudly down the main street with his fine beaver on his head, and immediately celebrated the event with a protracted debauch.

When he recovered he returned to the shop with a most disreputable hat.

"Look here, I thought you said this here beaver hat would last me a lifetime."

"So it would," growled Mr. Smith, "if you had died when you ought to."

Cough Medicine for Children.

Two much care cannot be used in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful substance and be most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these requirements and is a favorite with the mothers of young children everywhere. For sale by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Eaters of Earth.

The practice of eating earth is not confined to any race or region of the earth. In America several tribes of Indians, of the Northern as well as the Southern continent, are given to using earth as food. Different varieties of clay seem to be preferred.

The Pawnee Indians used a yellowish clay, which they shaped into little balls that were allowed to dry in the air and were then slowly roasted at the open fire. When the clay attained a red color the balls were removed, moistened with water, and eaten. These clay balls were especially liked when served in connection with fish, and seem to have promoted digestion.

The Timmeh Indians of the McKenzie river used to resort to the earth as food in times of famine. They dug out the clay found in the hollows along the banks of the river. In prosperous years they chewed the clay as a delicacy. The Apaches mixed powdered clay into their meal before baking this into their rude loaves of bread.

The Indians in the uplands of Bolivia ate a light clay that is nearly white in color; this they used either raw or in the form of cakes of various shapes, which were sold in the market places. They also prepared a sauce with the clay; this they ate with boiled potatoes.

Pains in the Stomach.

If you continually complain of pains in the stomach, your liver or your kidneys are out of order. Neglect may lead to dropsy, kidney trouble, diabetes or Bright's disease. Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. I suffered much, but Electric Bitters was recommended and I improved from the first dose. I now feel like a new man." It will improve you too. Only 50c and $1. Recommended by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Making the Judge Jump.

One of the most eloquent lawyers that ever pleaded in a court of law had a cork leg. None but the most intimate of his acquaintances knew for certain which was the sham limb. One day he was engaged in a case when a young lawyer sought to utilize his knowledge for his personal benefit.

The celebrated counsel was pleading in his most earnest manner when the young lawyer whispered to a stranger near him:

"You see how earnest old Rusty is. I'll bet you a pound that I can run a pin in his leg right up to the head and he will never know it."

The bet was booked. The wag took a long pin from his vest and, leaning forward, drove it up to the head in the lawyer's leg.

A yell, blood-curdling and more awful than that of an Indian, made the hair of the jury stand on end and the judge to jump from the bench.

"Great Scot!" exclaimed the wag. "It was the wrong leg, and I've lost my bet!"

Found a Cure for Rheumatism

"I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that length of time," writes Lee L. Chapman, Mapleton, Iowa. "I suffered terrible pain so I could not sleep or lie still at night. Five years ago I began using Chamberlain's Liniment and in two months I was well and have not suffered with rheumatism since."

"For sale by Paul Drug Co. Ad." "I was suffering from pain in my stomach, head and back," writes H. T. Alston, Raleigh, N. C. "and my liver and kidneys did not work right, but four bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." "PRICE 50 CTS. & ALL DRUG STORES."

Pains All Over!

"You are welcome," says Mrs. Nora Guffey, of Broken Arrow, Okla., "to use my letter in any way you want to, if it will induce some suffering woman to try Cardui. I had pains all over, and suffered with an abscess. Three physicians failed to relieve me. Since taking Cardui, I am in better health than ever before, and that means much to me, because I suffered many years with womanly troubles, of different kinds. What other treatments I tried, helped me for a few days only."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Don't wait, until you are taken down sick, before taking care of yourself. The small aches and pains, and other symptoms of womanly weakness and disease, always mean worse to follow, unless given quick treatment.

You would always keep Cardui handy, if you knew what quick and permanent relief it gives, where weakness and disease of the womanly system makes life seem hard to bear. Cardui has helped over a million women. Try it.

A Happy Surprise.

The close of the winter term of the W. K. S. N., was marked by the marriage of two prominent pupils, Miss Hammer, of Monroe county, was wedded to Mr. J. L. Foley, of Russell. She was a beautiful young lady of nineteen, he a handsome young man of twenty-two. They were married by Dr. Doolan, the most prominent minister in Bowling Green. They were waved a friendly goodby and a happy future by quite a number of the pupils, as they sped away on an early North-bound train this morning, April 5, 1913.

Look to Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first-class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by Paull Drug Co.

Embassador Page.

It is probably a mere coincidence that America's representative to the court of St James, under the present administration, will also be an editor. It is, however, a tribute to the journalistic profession that is appreciated by every member of it. Ali confidently believe that Ambassador Page will prove himself worthy of the nation's trust reposed in him.

Walter H. Page, of the firm of Doubleday-Page & Co., has spent his life in literature. As editor as well as author he has attained high rank in his profession. He has demonstrated also business ability of a high order. While he is not a rich man like the late Whitelaw Reid, he has accumulated something of this world's goods. But best of all, he is a born diplomat.

The late O. Henry said of Mr. Page's gift of diplomacy: "Walter Page can write a letter declining a contribution to his publications with thanks, and word it so sweetly that you can take it to a bank and raise money on it as evidence of money to come." This is the kind of diplomacy that the American people have always stood most in need of.

Pleasant Dreams.

The custom of wishing those whom we care for pleasant dreams at bedtime is of deep scientific significance, according to Dr. S. Freud, the German neurologist.

Contrary to unusual belief, Dr. Freud asserts that sleep with pleasant dreams is more highly beneficial than dreamless sleep. On awakening from dreamless sleep he says that one usually feels dull, and indisposed for the day's work. Pleasant dreams, on the other hand, by supplying a gentle stimulus to the nerve cells of the brain, cause wholesome emotion, so that on awakening the sleeper is filled with vigor and is eager for the day's work.

All dreams, according to Dr. Freud, are of pleasant origin. The well known scientist has made an exhaustive study of dreams. The meaning which common usage has attached to the word "dreamland" is fully justified, Dr. Freud says, because in our dreams mortality occupies itself solely with other latent or active wishes and their fulfillment. Released from the brake which reason applies, the brain, after searching the heart for the wishes that lie tucked away there, begins to manipulate them as best it can.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscleman, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living to-day." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1. Recommended by Paull Drug Co. Ad

$50,000 A YEAR SQUANDERED???

"Teachers to Teach Teachers to Teach" Needed Today.

HEARD AT COUNTRY STORE.

Two Old Timers Express Their Views on Up to Date Educational Methods and Expenses of State Normal School. "Old Fashioned" Training No Longer "Good Enough."

"Say, did you ever notice how easy it is to spend the state's money? That school, the one they call the normal school, uses about $50,000 a year, I hear. That $50,000 is for just the normal school in this end of the state too."

"Mighty different when we were boys, Bill. We didn't have to have teachers to teach teachers to teach!"

The two old codgers in front of the country store shook their heads sadly over the follies and the extravagances of the present day. A young man who had been industriously whittling a stick and listening attentively at the same time laughed, and then asked, "How much of the $50,000 does this county pay?"

"I dunno," answered one of the men. "Well, I do," snapped the youth. "A little less than $700, that's all."

"Well, what do we get back for it?

"An' what do the other counties in the state get for what money they put in?"

"You get a number of trained teachers, and so do the other counties in the state."

"We don't need 'em. The ol' fashioned kind are good enough."

"Hold on a moment! Think! When you men were boys a bright youngster could go into any doctor's office for a couple of years, then hang out his shingle and practice medicine. He did the best he could, but you wouldn't think of having that sort of physician for your family today."

"I'd like to know what that's got to do with teachin' school."

"Just this—that your ideas about school and teaching are about fifty years behind the times. If you must have a trained man to look after your child's body you certainly must have a trained man or woman to look after the child's mind."

"I get mighty tired of you youngsters with all your newfangled ideas for spending money. I tell you what, you're tryin' to do things too fast."

"There!" snapped the young man again. "I told you you didn't stop to think. Two years ago in front of this very store I heard both of you cussin' the Boys' Corn club movement. You said that nobody could possibly grow 100 bushels of corn on an acre of land in this neighborhood or in the state of Kentucky for that matter."

"Well?"

"In this state during the past summer fifty-six boys, boys yet under eighteen, grew 100 bushels or much better. Do you two men know that this movement has been handled by the very school you are fussing about? Four thousand boys in this state grew an acre of corn in the Boys' Corn club contest. I'd be willing to bet that each one of the 4,000 earned $10 more than he would have earned if there hadn't been any Boys' Corn clubs in the state, wouldn't he?"

"I reckon so."

"Well, then, 4,000 boys earning $10 each makes $40,000 of that $50,000 the state is spending on that school, don't it? Seems to me as if it was a rather good investment for the state if it does happen to be newfangled."

We have had a few days of cool weather.

Geo. T. Rodgers, of Greensburg, was there last Saturday looking after insurance.

Mike Winfrey, of Columbia, was in this section a few days of last week.

Miss Sallie Diddle, of Columbia, is spending a few days with her relatives at this place.

Miss Nora Sherrill returned home a few days ago after an extended visit to Greensburg and other places.

Mr. A. H. Pulliam, of Nell, was with us last Saturday.

Dr. Bowlin, the well-known optician, of Canner, spent last Sunday at the Wilmore House.

Born, to the wife of Henry Parson, on April 11th, a daughter. Mother and child doing well.

Quite a number from this place attended Quarterly Court at Columbia last Mondays.

Misses Ora Moss and Mollie Flowers spent last Sunday in Columbia.

John Q. Alexander, the well-known dry goods man, of Campbellsburg, was in our midst one day last week.

G. B. Yates and wife, of Joppa, spent one night here last week with the former's uncle, Mr. Charlie Yates and daughter.

Mr. James Gist, who has been in delicate health for some time, does not improve very fast.

James Simpson, of Breeding, received something like a carload of hogs here the first of the week at 6¢c and 7¢ per pound.

Mr. W. C. Hill, of our town has been on the sick list for the past few days.

Our old friend, J. B. Yates, of Cave City, in company with his sister, Mrs. G. E. Nell, spent a day or so in our town last week. Jim is looking like a 16-year-old boy. We were certainly glad to see him.

Messrs. Cheatham & Yates, of Milltown, were here last Saturday buying and delivering hogs at the market price.

Rev. G. W. Pangburn filled his regular appointment here last Sunday with a very interesting discourse. In the afternoon he addressed the children on the Sunday School lesson.

Dr. L. C. Nell ran a very narrow escape of losing his life one night last week in trying to cross the creek near this place, it being dark and he did not know it was up so high. He was driving and had to remain in the creek for something like an hour for it to run down.

Mrs. Alfred Parson was taken violently sick one day last week. The trouble was with her heart and it was feared for some time that she would not revive. We are glad to note at this time that she is improving.

Mr. Allen Parson and wife, of Portland, spent last Saturday at this place visiting their relatives. Allen says produce is in great demand in his territory.

William Stotts and son, of Petts-Worke section, were with us last Saturday. William says the farmers in his community are moving along nicely with their farm work.

Next Sunday, the 3rd, being the quarterly service day at Union. The Sunday School will be re-organized and everybody that is interested in the Sunday School work has a special invitation to be present and take part in this great work. We see no reason why we should not have one of the best Schools in the county as we all know there is a number of children and young people as well as the middle aged and old that ought to be in the Sunday School. The cold weather is over now and roads are fairly good and we have no excuse to keep us from attending. We will have a full supply of literature. Don't forget the time and place. We shall expect a good attendance.

The "Always Reliable" Flour

If you want fluffy biscuits that are light and wholesome—cake that melts in your mouth and delicate tempting "good eating," you must use flour milled entirely from the highest grade of Winter wheat. Now, Winter wheat is very high in price, while Spring wheat costs much less. Consequently there is a strong temptation for millers to mix Spring wheat with Winter wheat—and thereby gain an additional profit.

Ballard's Obelisk Flour

is milled entirely of the best quality of Winter wheat. Because it always gives the greatest satisfaction we say that Obelisk is the one "always reliable" flour. The mill back of the flour—with more than 30 years' reputation for quality and square dealing—insures "always reliable" flour and good treatment.

We Share Our Profits With YOU

Each sack of Ballard's Obelisk Flour contains one of our "good-as-cash" profit-sharing coupons which can be exchanged for Useful and Ornamental Articles of Value by mailing them to The Profit-Sharing Premium Co., at Louisville, Ky. Noble Peacock NOBLE PEACOCK the best Stallion in Kentucky, will serve this season for the low price of $10.00 to insure a living colt.

NOBLE is 5 years old 15½ hands high, is a beautiful bay with white hind feet, strictly sound and the best saddle horse I ever backed. He is showing the best lot of colts this spring I ever looked at.

NOBLE is by Jordan Peacock 1148, the best breeder that was ever in Adair county, his colt shows at the Columbia Fairs is evidence of the fact. Noble's dam is by Artist Jewel, 2nd dam by Cromwell Denmark 73, 3rd dam by Artist 75. There is not a better bred stallion living than Noble Peacock, and I will guarantee every good mare that is bred to Noble, to bring a high class colt with both ends up.

HIGHWAY and JACK O'DIAMONDS

My two fine Jacks will stand for $10.00 for mare mules and $8.00 for horse mules to insure.

HIGHWAY'S colts sold last fall as high as $120.00. I sold a pair of 2-year-olds the 29th day of March, to W. T. Thompson, of Hart county for $440.00. This was two of the finest mules that were ever raised in Adair county, and they were by Highway.

JACK O'DIAMONDS was 2 years old last fall and is a good prospect. He was sired by G. Y. Thompson's 16 hand Jack, at Centre, Ky., for which Mr. Thompson has been offered $1200. Jack O'Diamond's dam was by Governor St. John a 16 hand Jack.

When you breed to my stock you are breeding to the best. I have been in the Breeding business 34 years, and I do not keep anything but the best.

If mare is traded or removed out of the neighborhood where she is bred before foaling time the season is then due.

Respectfully,

W. L. Grady.

ALEXANDER'S ARTIST.

Alexander's Artist, 4517, A. S. H. R., sired by Fayette Artist, 4516, he by Kentucky Artist, 1455, he by Artist Montrose, 51, he by Artist, 75, by King William, 67.

1st dam, Louise Cabell, 5900, by Red Squirrel, 53. 2nd dam, Juelle C., 1304, by Jewel Denmark, 70, by Washington Denmark, 64. 3rd dam, by Dew Drop, by Cabell's Lexington. Alexander's Artist is a beautiful red chestnut, six years old, 15½ hands high. You will note from the above that there are few if any better bred Stallions in Kentucky. He is a grand individual and in every way as good as his breeding. He is thoroughly broken to double and single harness, and nicely gaited, in fact he is a combined horse of high class, and presents a magnificent appearance anywhere you place him. His future as a show horse and as a producer of saddle horses, will compare most favorably with the best. Fee, $10.00 to insure a living colt.

MARION.

Marion is a black Jack with white points, 6 years old, 15 hands high, extra good length, heavy bone and foot, good head and ears. He has lots of substance, in fact he has all of the desirable features of a first-class Jack. He has proven himself very sure and a most excellent breeder. Service fee $10.00 to insure a living colt.

The above described stock will do service at my barn in Columbia, Ky.

I am prepared to take care of mares sent to me from a distance. Mares pastured at $2.00 per month, or fed at $8.00. In all cases money due and must be paid, when mares are bred to other stock, traded, parted with or removed from the neighborhood. All stock will receive my personal attention, and due care will be taken to prevent accidents or escapes, but will not be responsible should any occur.
